
Gray cells are not planned or have no verified F1; they are never filled with another method's result.
Module effects include the declared algorithm's stopping and budget allocation policy.